ABOUT TOBACCO.

Bad Roads and Freezing Weather Checks Receipts.

Good Sales of Loose Weed Both Sale Days of This Week.

The bad roads and the very cold and continuous unfavorable weather has had the effect of lessening the delivery of loose tobacco for the past two weeks and as a result the sales have not been quite so large as they were before the freeze. Woodridge & Co., however, had a good sale on Tuesday and again yesterday. Prices were good and farmers were well satisfied.

A very small per cent of the crop has yet been delivered, but as soon as the condition of the roads will permit the bulk of the crop will be brought in.

On the local break this week the warehouses made small offerings, but sales will not materially improve until better weather for handling the weed prevails.

Cask receipts this week were 245 hogsheads; receipts for the year, 775 hds.

INSANE WOMAN

Killed by Nephew, in Defense of His Mother.

Thomas Whitman, the 13-year-old son of Mrs. Sophia Whitman, who resides on East Seventh street, shot and killed his aunt, Miss Mary Phipps, Wednesday morning. The killing was done in defense of the youth's mother.

Miss Phipps was paroled last summer from the asylum where she had been confined much of the time for fifteen years, and was living with her sister, Mrs. Whitman. She was not regarded as dangerous. Wednesday morning her insanity assumed a violent form, and she attacked her sister, who was feeble from a recent attack of typhoid fever, and began choking her.

Thomas Whitman went to his mother's aid, but was unable to cope with the maniacal fury of his aunt, who was rapidly choking her victim to death. The boy picked up a pistol which his mother had under the pillow on her bed and fired twice at close range. One ball entered Miss Phipps' breast and the other penetrated her brain.

The boy surrendered to the officers, but was not taken into custody, as the verdict of the coroner's jury exonerated him from any blame for the killing.

CRUSHED BY CARS.

Colored Man Loses His Life at Pembroke.

Tom Merritt, a colored coalminer working at Providence, happened to an accident at Pembroke Wednesday afternoon that cost him his life. Merritt was en route to his home in Guthrie and was riding between two freight cars. When the train stopped at Pembroke Merritt got one leg caught between the bumpers and the limb was badly crushed and mangled. He lingered in great agony until 6 o'clock. He was 22 years old. Coroner Allensworth held an inquest yesterday.

MOTION MADE

To Docket and Advance Meacham Injunction Suit.

Mr. Ray Files His Motion in Writing and Judge Pryor Files Objection.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 13.—A motion for the docketing and advancement of the appeal in the Meacham injunction case was made at today's session of the Court of Appeals by Mr. John W. Ray, of counsel for the plaintiff. Judge W. S. Pryor, of counsel for the Democratic State Executive Committee, was present in court and objected to the motion. Mr. Ray filed his motion in writing and Judge Pryor presented a written response.

Following is Mr. Ray's motion: "The appellant, C. M. Meacham, moves the court to docket this appeal and to advance the same for hearing and decision, and for reasons:

"The question involved is one of great public interest, involving the power and authority of the appellants to call and hold a State primary election for the purpose of nominating State officers, and presents no question as to the personal liability of the appellants for any sum of money claimed to be due against them, no personal judgment being sought, only an injunction against the holding of the proposed primary."

"Our contention is that when the appeal was granted by the court below that that order transferred jurisdiction immediately to this court and no summons or notice of any kind is necessary to be given to the appellants, but the case stands for hearing upon order of the court, made after notice of such motion be given to the appellants, which has been done herein. For authority for this action of docketing and advancement, we cite the great public interest, and the rule in contested election cases based on the same ground."

BEHIND THE BARS.

Slayer of Nick Branic Captured in Illinois.

Garth Tompkins, the negro who shot and killed Nick Branic, col., of near Beverly, this county, at Madisonsville Christmas eve night, was captured in Cartersville, Ill., Sunday, by Deputy Sheriff Will Powers, of Hopkins county. Tompkins returned without requisition papers and was lodged in jail at Madisonville to await trial at the February Term of Circuit Court.

Tompkins shot Branic the night of the 24th of last December with a 44-calibre Colt's revolver, killing him instantly. He then made his escape that night. There was $200 reward offered by the State and $25 by I. Bailey for his capture. Powers went to Illinois alone, found the negro there at work and brought him home. Tompkins, it is alleged, killed the man who had married his divorced wife.

Restored to Good Health by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"I have taken six bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss M. Fife, of Orillia, Simcoe Co., Ontario, "and two bottles of the 'Pleasant Pellets' as you advised, for congestion of uterus, ovaries, and weakness, and can safely say that your medicine has been the means of restoring me to good health again, which I had not had for over three years, until taking your medicine. I thank you very much for your kind and prompt attention to my letter asking advice."

I Wish I Were Well.

How many a weak, nervous woman finds that with rising involutional she is well again! She sees friends and acquaintances entering into sports and games, or enjoying social pleasures from which she is shut out by weakness and sickness, and she says with a sigh of envy and regret, "I wish I were well." Wishing will not make any woman well, but from wishing one may be willing to let directly a woman wills to see her looks for the means by which health may be attained.

When a sick woman asks "How can I regain my health?" the next question she will ask is "How have other sick women been made healthy?" and to that question there is one unanimous answer from hundreds of thousands of healthy, happy women: "We were sick and were made well by Dr. R. V. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." The merit of this medicine rests entirely upon its cures of womanly diseases. It has cured and is curing every form of womanly diseases curable by medicine; and very often it cures forms of womanly disease which local physicians pronounce incurable except by a surgical operation. As to the case of Miss Ratz, it has been said, "a great many physicians can't 'cure' in ninety-eight per cent. of cases, 'Favorite Prescription' cures in ninety-nine out of fifty women who give it a fair and faithful trial."

It would be worse than foolish to claim for "Favorite Prescription" such power to cure if that claim could not be supported by the living witnesses, the women who have been cured. The number of these witnesses is legion. There are women who have been cured of the disease of irregularity—draining each day for days of misery and prostration. To-day they are in the full enjoyment of health. There are other women who were suffering from weakening drains; others still who writhed, scorched by the fire of inflammation, felt the pains of ulceration and knew the possibilities of suffering expressed in that familiar term, female weakness. To-day they are enjoying perfect womanly health. No more bearing-down pains. No more headache, backache, nervousness and sleeplessness. They are perfectly and permanently cured by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

Careless woman affords to neglect such a means of cure for womanly disease? If you are sick; if you suffer from irregularity, unhealthy drains, inflammation, ulceration or female weakness, give "Favorite Prescription" a fair trial. There is only one chance in fifty that you fail of a complete cure. There is no chance that you fail of benefit, for "Favorite Prescription" always helps, and almost always cures.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you are led to purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept an unproved substitute.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, cloth binding, is sent FREE on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. For book in paper covers send only 21 stamps.

"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription Raised Me from a Sick-bed."

"Your 'Favorite Prescription' is a truly wonderful medicine," writes Miss Hattie C. Ratz, Secretary of Brooklyn 'Frauenverein,' residing at 512 7th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. It raised me from a sick-bed when the doctor decided that nothing but an operation would give me relief. Words seem weak to express my gratitude, for life looks dark when health is gone. I am glad to give my testimony, and shall always recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women who are in need of it."

THE CRAFTY SULTAN.

Quarterly Report

QUARTERLY REPORT

Abdul Hamid Is a Statesman as Well as a Fanatic.

Believes Sultan is the Renaissance of Islam and in His Own Star—Piling Up War Chest for Future Use.

Under the somewhat misleading title of "The Crafty Sultan," Capt. Gambier, U. S. N., contributes to the fortnightly Review a very remarkable and extremely interesting article upon Turkey and her future; or, more correctly, upon the Turks and the Moslems. The central point of their present war is the annexations. With the Macedonian problem, which is the nominal subject of his article, Capt. Gambier deals briefly, his main points being that none of the Moslems want to be ruled by a Turk, and that in the future the Moslems are the Moslems. He ridicules the idea of degenerate Greece founding a new Byzantium via Macedonia, and scoffs at the idea of Italian pretensions in Albania. "Left singlehanded, the Turks will be lucky if they can hold out against the forces of the Balkans or in Tripoli, the focus of the Abyssinian campaign will be repeated ten-fold."

It is the Turk who is really on top in the east, and who is most dangerous. There is no question of inferiority in that quarter. The Turk is not an expiring race. When we remember how the Ottoman empire has dwindled away we are apt to think of the Turks as a dying people. But standing under the sun of Europe, and understanding the problems of Islam as a matter of faith, not of territory one can well agree with many Moslems that the shrinkage of their power in Europe is not a misfortune. A deep-thinking Turk once remarked to Capt. Gambier: "It would be a bold man who would predict that the propagation of the Christian would not give place in another 600 years to the less complicated belief in the one God of Mohammed." The 600 years represent the advantage of age which Christianity has over Islam.

To keep alive the faith in the One and Indivisible God is the set purpose

SULTAN ABDUL HAMID.
(Has Unbroken Record in the Renaissance of Islam.)

of Abdul Hamid's life. He looks on Christianity as dead, while the spirit which conquered half the world is only dormant in his people.

To the hands of the omnipotent, omniscient sultan converge all the political, financial, and religious forces. Rising early, he works harder than a London accountant. For hours he receives a procession of secretaries, ministers, ulemas, dragomans, petitioners, emissaries from all parts of the earth. When their turn comes, the sultan knows all about their business, and dispenses it without asking anyone's advice, "that he has cognizance of everything that passes in his empire, however loosely governed it may be."

The sultan's favorite theory in cross-examination is that, given enough rope, any man will hang himself.

The sultan is, in fact, triumphant. He made fools of the French, the English, and, he says, of the Germans as an amateur. He is a parsimonious man; he hates equally wasting money and paying salaries, and millions upon millions of his revenues remain unaccounted for and unexpended. He is plotting up a war chest for future use," Capt. Gambier evidently thinks so. And there is every reason why he should, for "Mohammedanism is as mighty a force in the world as Catholicism—all the more so because the former is intelligent and the latter is not." The sultan knows all about the business, and disposes of it without asking anyone's advice, "that he has cognizance of everything that passes in his empire, however loosely governed it may be."

A Dog That Rakes a King.

Dignity, poise and etiquette are particularly strong points with Edward VII, says a London correspondent of the Boston Herald, and woe betide any high-spirited dog who dares to break the smallest dictate of dress or deportment in the royal presence—that is, woe betide all such subjects save one. The exception is Jack, a stray Irish terrier, who strolled into Marlborough house not long ago, and, like the king of the kingdom, was allowed to run wild among the ladies of the court. His food and exercise are personally supervised by his royal comrade, and the general question of his health and conduct are a matter of personal concern to the king.

No Laundry in China.

Laundries in China. This is strange when it is considered that nine out of every ten Chinamen who come to the United States go into the laundry business. Throughout all of China the consumption of starch does not exceed 16 pounds in a year.

FANCY FOWLS.

"The phenomenally successful and most widely read poultry organ of the south, established in 1897, is a credit to its name. It is out once the 10th of each month, is prosperous and responsible. It is a well-priced paper it is in a class by itself. It is larger than most 50¢ papers, 36 x 60 P. G. E. G. It is a valuable publication in its territory of any poultry paper and unequalled as an advertising medium, to those wanting to reach Southern readers, it is the best paper in the country."

between Mr. Morgan's and Mr.

Remarkable Cure of Croup.

A LITTLE BOY'S LIFE SAVED.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Stiles of Graves, Ky., and when I got home with the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every three minutes until he "threw up" and then again. He was so good that he choked to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—JOEL DEMONT, Indianapolis, Ind.

This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the cause is something which you have no control over it is obvious that nothing will help the matter in the least. On the other hand, if within your control you have only to act. HOW GLOBES ARE MADE.

Something to Think About the Next Time
You Look At One.

The first process in making a globe is to cover the model all over with a thick layer of pasteboard in a moist state. When it has dried a sharp knife is passed around it so as to separate the pasteboard coat into two hemispherical shells, which are then taken off the model and united at the cut edges with glue. The hollow sphere thus formed is the skeleton of the globe that is to be.

The next thing is to cover it with a coating of white enamel about one eighth of an inch in thickness, composed of whiting, oil, turpentine and glue. When this is done the ball is turned to a perfect roundness with a machine, the operation of which is too sacred to be exhibited to the casual visitor. At the conclusion of the process it looks like nothing so much as a highly-magnified white marble, such as a giant might play knuckle-down with.

The iron rod running through the center of the original model and projecting at both ends through the surface has left holes in the new globe which serve very well for the north and south poles, and through these a metal axis is run to represent the axis of the earth.

To be perfect the globe must revolve evenly upon its axis when the latter is held horizontally, without displaying any disposition to stop with one side up rather than another.
If it does not do so it must be balanced by boring a hole in the lighter side, and fastening within a little bag containing as many shot as may be requisite. Then the hole is plugged up and the surface made even again.

The next thing is to mark the surface off with pencil lines into mathematical segments corresponding precisely in shape with the sections of map that are to be pasted on.

These map sections are made from copper plates in just the sizes and shape required to fit the globes they are made for, one set of each, covering the entire surface of a sphere.

They are printed—many of them together, like dress patterns—on sheets of the finest linen paper, and are cut out carefully with a sharp-pointed knife.

To paste them on properly, so that they will meet perfectly at the edges and not show the lines of joining, requires great pains and skill.

When this is accomplished the different countries, and so forth, are tinted by hand with water colors.
There is no special rule for this, save that contrasts are sought to help the eye.

Finally the whole is overlaid with an astonishingly brilliant white varnish, which is of such almost metallic hardness that it will wear indefinitely without scratching, preserving always its brightness.

Now the globe is done and ready for mounting. A beautiful thing it is, too! Its printing as clear as copper-plate can make it, the colors vivid, and above all, correct in every detail according to the latest geographical information. And yet the man who executed the plates employed today has been dead many years.

His name was W. B. Annin, and it is said that his equal at map engraving
does not exist in the world at present.
That is the reason why the plates he made are still in use—because they are better than any new ones that can be obtained.—Goulden Days.
